

Having sat on the OCNI board for the past two years, I have a strong interest in continuing to contribute to the Nuclear industry through engaging and supporting our members, leading initiatives and innovations amongst the sector.

My role on the OCNI board of directors is currently Treasurer, I am also the chair of the Indigenous Engagement Committee and I sit on the equal by 30, performance & compensation, and the skills development committee.

Being a strong Indigenous woman and coming from a long lineage of strong woman has given me the drive and determination to strive for excellence towards a clean energy future.
