

We have a unique opportunity during the next three years to make an impact as members of the Canadian nuclear supply chain and morso the nuclear industry. Deployment of new SMRs, refurbishing the existing fleet and decommissioning out old reactors while managing our nuclear waste will require our nuclear supply chain to play a critical role in serving the industry.

My passion to work together to grow our industry domestically and abroad, provides assurance that as a member of the board I will challenge myself and OCNI to make step changes in how we apply strategic focus to attain our Vision and Mission as an organization. Today we face challenges in new normal that requires our industry and OCNI to adapt to maintain connections, outreach, advocacy, capability and capacity all while we ensure a robust revenue stream to support our industry focus.

I intend to work for all members to bring new ideas and create new opportunities to ensure OCNI continues to provide value to help strengthen out industry. My past experience as a director and VP on a similar board, together with my extensive work experience bringing large complex projects to fruition makes me a strong qualified candidate to serve as a member of your board.
