

The nuclear supply chain in Canada is fundamental to the benefits and the broader value proposition the nuclear industry brings to Canadians. I would like the opportunity to contribute to this in a meaningful way through the OCNI BoD. The position on the OCNI BoD would afford me the opportunity to contribute to the supply chain community on strategic initiatives and to further promote the role of the Canadian nuclear supply chain.

In this role, I would strive to provide insights across business units, as well as add to the collaboration across the industry. I would be interested in supporting the advancement of a strategic plan for supply organizations to support the deployment of SMRs across Canada. This includes a supply chain development strategy and model for those provinces that do not currently have a robust nuclear supply chain.

I would also be interested in supporting ED&I initiatives for OCNI to support greater diversity in the supply chain sector. This also includes support for OCNI's Indigenous Engagement Plan as well as a strategy to qualify more indigenous owned and operated businesses.
