OCNI OVERVIEW

The Organization of Canadian Nuclear Industries (OCNI) is an association of more than 250 leading Canadian suppliers to the nuclear industry in both domestic and international markets. OCNi member companies employ over 15,000 highly skilled professionals across Canada who manufacture major equipment and components, and provide engineering services and support for CANDU and SMR technologies used in nuclear power plants worldwide.

Beyond the energy sector, OCNi companies are also committed to advancing the safe and responsible use of nuclear technology in various other fields, including medicine and industrial applications.

OCNI is the leading voice of Canada's nuclear supply chain, actively promoting the production of safe, clean, and reliable nuclear baseload electricity as a vital part of a balanced energy mix in Ontario. The organization also supports member companies in expanding their reach to global nuclear markets by fostering partnerships with local suppliers, plant designers, utilities, and government agencies.

Introduction

OCNI, in partnership with Bruce Power and Ontario Power Generation, is proud to announce OCNI Nuclear Industry Day 2026 — a brand-new event bringing together Canada’s world-class nuclear supply chain for two full days of connection, innovation, and collaboration.

This event is designed to highlight opportunities, forge new relationships, and build on the growing momentum in Canada’s thriving nuclear industry.

Why Sponsor? In addition to the specific benefits outlined below, sponsoring OCNI Nuclear Industry Day 2026 offers valuable opportunities to:

- Elevate your company’s visibility within the Canadian nuclear supply chain
- Align your brand with innovation, collaboration, and industry leadership
- Engage directly with key decision-makers, utilities, and national labs
- Foster meaningful relationships with clients, prospects, and industry peers

Thank you for your interest—we appreciate your support!
